

Supporting children and adults with developmental disabilities for 60+ years

National Inclusive Education Award

The National Inclusive Education Award is an initiative organized by Inclusion Canada (formerly CACL) and its provincial and territorial member associations. The Award for Alberta is provided jointly by Inclusion Canada and Inclusion Alberta, with acknowledgement from Alberta Education, to honour a teacher, administrator, school or school district whose commitment to inclusive education is exemplary and deserving of recognition.

Inclusion Alberta is seeking nominations for this year's National Inclusive Education Award recipient. The Award is an opportunity for an Alberta school or school district to receive national and provincial recognition for their efforts in ensuring every child is welcomed and included.

Please consider nominating a teacher, administrator, school or school district in Alberta that has demonstrated its dedication for inclusive education. More information on this award can be found at www.inclusionalberta.org or by contacting the Inclusion Alberta office.

Inclusion Alberta is committed to supporting Alberta teachers, schools and school districts in their efforts to provide a quality inclusive education to students with developmental disabilities. Inclusion Alberta offers a wide array of support and assistance, which can be readily accessed by contacting our office. Inclusion Alberta provides free consultation services to schools to assist teachers in modifying and adapting curriculum.

Inclusion Alberta also offers in-services and workshops specifically tailored to school and school district needs. We have the largest collection of resource materials in inclusive education in Alberta, which can be accessed through our resource centre.
